Parliamentary Group

India is where my story began. Switzerland is where it grew. Bringing these two worlds together is personal.

With Swiss Wine India, I invite you to meet the people and discover the places behind this collection. Taste across regions. Hear the producers' stories. Find a wine that surprises you - and a pairing that belongs on your table.

The EFTA-India trade agreement opens doors. Since its entry into force on 1 October 2025, the opportunity has been ours to turn into conversations, trust and lasting partnerships.

Come to the Swiss Table in India. Bring your curiosity. Tell us what you would love to pour - for your guests, your restaurant or an evening with friends.

Two countries close to my heart.
A place at the table for you.

More than a wine selection.

Wine is the beginning. Cheese, Hüppen and chocolate bring other Swiss traditions into the same conversation - including Gottlieber's chocolate Tartufi and Seiler's raclette.

EXPLORE Meet the people, understand the places and discover a fit for your guests.

BUILD Translate interest into a considered selection, with the Indian trade journey coordinated through SWINTRA.

GROW Develop the relationship through tastings, menu conversations and repeat discovery.

Small distances. Distinctive worlds.

Follow the numbered circles to each producer’s opening page. Build your own route, one tasting at a time.

SWITZERLAND LIECHTENSTEIN / 36

Sother

An estate.
A family perspective.

Sother brings a family wine perspective to La Côte, with roots in Alsace and properties including Château de Malessert and Domaine du Manoir. Near Perroy, the château sits within the vineyard landscape above Lake Geneva. The selection moves from Chasselas to Pinot Noir and Gamay: three varieties, three ways to begin a conversation about Vaud.

Domaine de Montbenay

La Côte, shaped by time.

Above Lake Geneva in Mont-sur-Rolle, Domaine de Montbenay traces its family connection with the property to 1543. Paul de Watteville took over in 2022, with his father Maurice continuing to contribute his experience. The cellar explores several vessels, including amphorae introduced in 2019. Chasselas, Sauvignon Blanc and Pinot Noir offer contrasting expressions of this La Côte estate.

Domaine de la Pierre Latine

Chasselas, with an Alpine accent.

Domaine de la Pierre Latine cultivates 16 hectares around Yvorne, in the Chablais region of Vaud. Chasselas is central to its identity. Philippe Gex took over the estate in 1982; the Clos du Crosex Grillé vineyard in Aigle joined in 2002, and André Hoffmann became owner in 2017. The three wines retain their distinct appellations within this Alpine landscape.

Two signatures.
One Ticino.

Founded in 1953 by Guglielmo Gialdi, Gialdi Vini has a strong connection to its territory. Its philosophy values the local area, sustainability and collaboration with local wine growers. Two lines express distinctive Ticino terroirs: Gialdi offers complex, structured and long-lived wines; Brivio offers elegant, smooth and full-bodied wines. Merlot appears here in white, rosé and red.
